

PRADYUMAN MURDER

Conductor to sue Ryan school mgmt, police

SUNIT DHAWAN
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

ROHTAK, NOVEMBER 9

After the CBI exonerated Gurugram-based Ryan International School's bus conductor Ashok Kumar of the charge of murdering Class II student Pradyuman, Kumar's Rohtak-based lawyer has stated that they would file a law suit against the school management and the police for defamation and torture.

Kumar's counsel, Mohit Verma, said here today that he had been stating from the very beginning that his client was made a scapegoat in the case to protect the real culprit(s).

"Ashok had been framed in the case. He was brutally tortured to confess to the crime which he had not committed. The CBI investigation has nailed the real culprit and we will now file the defamation suit and seek action against the police," Verma maintained.

Pradyuman

Ashok Kumar

Ashok Kumar's family had hired Verma as the Bar Associations of Gurugram and Sohna had refused to defend him.

Verma had earlier refuted the police version and maintained that the police had tortured Ashok to obtain his confessional statement.

"Ashok had been wrongly implicated in the case. He was brutally tortured during his police remand, subjected to electric shocks and administered injections of some intoxicant/sedative prior to being presented before the media," Verma had maintained.

The lawyer had stated that the school management as well as the police were trying to shield the real culprit in the case. He had asserted that Ashok had carried injured Pradyuman and put him in a car on directions of the school authorities. He said two schoolchildren who practised taekwondo were present in the washroom when Ashok picked up the boy from there.

Police under fire for framing 'innocent'

SUSHIL MANAV
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

CHANDIGARH, NOVEMBER 9

The Gurugram police are under fire for a botched investigation into the Pradyuman murder case and are being accused of framing an 'innocent' bus conductor.

Ever since the CBI has come out with an entirely different finding by apprehending a class XI student for the murder, Twitter and other social media is abuzz with posts attacking the police.

"I'm sure all of you must have heard who the real culprit is in the Pradyuman murder case. The rich parents, the management of the school and the Gurugram police who did such a shoddy job, didn't mind making a scapegoat of an innocent man whose only crime was his poverty," writes Renuka Shahane, actor, in her post on Facebook, which she later tweeted.

Ashok Tanwar, state Congress president, has accused the Gurugram police of misleading the investigations.

"Was this CCTV footage not available when Gurugram Police investigated the case?" Tanwar tweeted.

Maria Wirth @mariawirth1, who describes herself as a German woman living in India for 35 years, tweeted, "From the start the arrest of the conductor looked unconvincing. Bigger issue: how many of the poor are in jails, because the real culprits were protected? Framing someone is a crime. Needs to be punished."

Rajbir Deswal, who recently retired as ADGP Haryana, however, says there is nothing shoddy about the investigation by the police. "There are stages in the course of investigation and this is one such stage. Sometimes it happens that an investigation hits a wall," Deswal says.

"It has appeared in certain media reports that the CBI got CCTV footage enhanced from a Hyderabad lab, which made movements of people moving around the toilet clearer. This type of advanced technologies and wherewithals are not available with the state police," he laments.

REWARI, NOVEMBER 9

Rao Inderjit, Union Minister, today expressed resentment against his own government at the Centre over the non-allocation of funds for establishing an AIIMS branch in Manethi village here. He also showed discontent over the non-completion of Sainik School building even after several years.

"Despite the Central Government's policy for setting up a branch of AIIMS in each state, the project is lying unexecuted even after two and a half years. I, along with CM Manohar Lal Khattar, called on Arun Jaitley, Finance Minister, last year, urging him to allocate budget for setting up an AIIMS branch in Manethi, but nothing has been done so far," said Rao, while addressing a gathering in Gotra Tappa Khori village here.

Having waited for two general budgets, we have no other option now but to meet the PM along with all Haryana MPs. We will urge him to provide budget for executing the announcement of the CM."
